"Dunk'n for Teachers a Success"

Aid for Educators first major fundraiser was a success, thanks to World of Beer and our volunteers.

The first person in the dunk tank was, Ed Farmer. Ed, a former decorated Navy SEAL and high school principal. He spent quite a bit of time in the tank thanks to McKenzie and friends.

Next, in the tank, was Robert Harris, candidate for Texas House District 94. Mr. Harris wants to help our teachers with incentives and other positive motions. Thank you for supporting Aid for Educators. Dunk'n for Teachers video.

"A New School Year"

The new school year will begin shortly and teachers are already preparing. Teachers are going to OfficeMax for a small amount of free supplies. Staples and other businesses are giving teacher discounts. Districts are asking parents to buy a list of school supplies needed for your child's class. So why do teachers need to spend their own money?

Parents are not required or can't afford to buy school supplies. Churches and charitable organizations donate supplies to the district or to a school. Do some of those supplies go directly to a teacher in need?

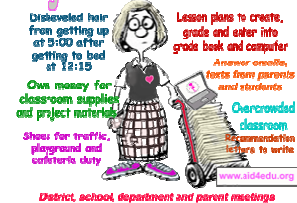

A number of teachers are retiring or leaving pursuing another profession. A new teacher has to decorate their classroom, get supplies and teaching materials. The new teacher spends their own money before they even receive their first paycheck.

Each year every child will start the year having a new teacher or teachers. The new teacher is motivated and nervous. The experienced teacher loves teaching and is ready. It will take a few weeks for your child's teacher to get a custom to their students.

Some teachers did not have much of a summer break. They taught summer school, attended meetings or classes to further their teaching skills.

Below, is a video to help the public, parents and students understand what it takes to be a teacher.

All proceeds go to our teachers

Help us by writing a review about our goals & progress.

Long time AISD teachers, Kathy Meyer and Jamie Johanson having a great time volunteering.

The generosity and work of Jake and Dustin, with World of Beer, made Dunk'n for Teachers a success. If you haven't visited WOB, please do so. It has good food a large selection of brews and live music on the weekend. Not to mention the many fun events during the month.

Dunk'n for Teachers raised enough money to honor our existing teacher applications and future applications.
